Office of the First Lady

"Year of the National Economic Reactivation"

Honorable
Michelle Obama
First Lady
United States of America

Dear Madam:

Upon presenting my greetings to you and due to the catastrophe which the Republic of Haiti is going through, we resort to the feeling of fraternity that brings the American peoples together and to your human sensibility, so that within our role as First Ladies and as the supportive and human arms that we are to our husbands, we remain united to prompt actions that allow us to join the commitment of helping our brother nation of Haiti.

We are called to be strong and sensible in difficult moments, to extend the hand that sustains the weakest and to help them rise again to give them back the hope and dignity to which every human being has the right.

In this sense, I am proposing to you the creation of a coalition to help Haiti, through which we may promote novel events to raise funds for the reconstruction of the areas that with consensus we decide to support.

I am sure that artists, painters, sculptors, architects, and designers from each of our countries would be willing to leave their legacy of generosity to the Haitian nation, through the beauty that art originates, this time in an unprecedented event that would elevate the values of solidarity and generosity that have characterized the peoples of America.

Looking forward to your proposals, and motivated by the spirit of humanity and affection that has always united us, I reiterate my feelings of the highest consideration and personal esteem.

Dr. Margarita Cedeno de Fernandez
First Lady of the Dominican Republic
